Short Biography (IMDB)

Lola Mae was born March 7, 2003 in Vienna, Austria. At seven, she began working as a model and was cast for television, film and theatre productions. At age ten she was cast for her first feature movie in a supporting role. During 2016 she had a recurring role at cooking show on national television in Austria and she landed roles in major theatre productions in Vienna.

Lola Mae took acting classes (Burg Theater) with dreams of becoming a professional performer and character actress. Having been named after Mae West, she was excited by her films, as well as by contemporary US Television Shows (i.e. Malcolm in the Middle) and the L.A. and Cologne Youtube scene (i.e. Jenna Marbles, Miranda Sings, Julian Bam, Jennys strange World). Since then she is pursuing her dream with persistence and creativity.

She currently goes to school, trains for national figure skating competitions and studies dance at the Dorner Dance Company in Vienna. She lives and works in Vienna (Austria) and Cologne (Germany).

Lola Mae is the daughter of contemporary artists lizvix and Hans Bernhard (UBERMORGEN). Her mother is Austrian and her father is an Swiss-American. She has an older sister, Billie Ada. At age eight, her family moved to Mauritius for a year.
